

MA in Human Rights and Democratization
Eastern Partnership Regional Programme

The Regional Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratisation announces call for applications for 2015/16 academic year. The Deadline for applying is June 30th.

The Regional Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratization is an interdisciplinary programme, with duration of 1 year (60 ECTS). It is implemented by Centre for European Studies of Yerevan State University (home university), together with its partner universities - Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv (host university), Belarusian State University (host university), and Tbilisi State University (host university). The official languages of the Programme are English and Russian.

The first term of the programme shall be run by Centre for European Studies of Yerevan State University, during the Second term students are to choose a partner university based on their educational background and interests.

Module specialization:

- The Political module will be covered by Belarusian State University
- The Legal Module will be covered by Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv
- The Interdisciplinary Module will be covered by Ivane Javakhashvili Tbilisi State University

The Regional Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratization in the Caucasus and EaP region (Armenia, Ukraine, Belarus, Georgia and Moldova) is established with the financial support of the European Union.

Regional Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratisation announces call for applications for 2

Գրել է Administrator

Չորեքշաբթի, 03 Հունիս 2015 13:27 - Վերջին Թարմացում Չորեքշաբթի, 03 Հունիս 2015 13:46

For more information, please visit the official website of the programme by clicking here .